2020 JANUARY ROUND UNIVERSITY OFFERS THROUGH TISC

January round university offer information is now available to applicants on the Tertiary Institutions Service Centre's website, www.tisc.edu.au.

TISC received 16,118 applications in the 2019/2020 admissions period, including 11,630 from WACE students (last year: 16,457 applications, including 12,107 from WACE students).

83% of university applicants have received an offer. There were 13,373 offers made over the admissions period with 73% of offers going to first preferences. At the same time last year, the universities had made 14,101 offers, with 75% going to first preferences. 2019 WACE students received 10,759 offers for 2020 university entry (93% of WACE applicants). The 2018 WACE cohort received 11,264 offers for 2019 entry (93% of WACE applicants).

Since the December round, 8,051 people have accepted their offers (8,175 last year).

This year there were 1,976 new offers in the January round (2,290 last year). These were made to a mixture of new applicants and existing applicants who missed an offer in the December round or who have now been offered a course higher in their preference list.

Also included in the January round of offers are people who were offered places in the December round but had chosen to wait in the hope of being offered one of their higher preferences in the later round. The universities have reoffered 1,330 places (1,392 last year) to applicants who chose to use this 'safety net' for their December round offer.

There are always a number of people who do not take up their offers or who choose to defer studies until the following year. There are 946 applicants who have not accepted their first preference offer from the December round (925 last year). A further 1,069 applicants have chosen to defer their study until 2020 (1,317 at the same time last year).

See attached for Summary of University Offers through TISC, 2016 to 2020. Full application and offer statistics for all four universities, by course, are available at www.tisc.edu.au.
