Media Release: 2022 UNIVERSITY OFFERS THROUGH TISC

Final (January) round university offer information is now available to applicants on the Tertiary Institutions Service Centre's website, www.tisc.edu.au.

TISC received a total of 16,081 applications for the 2022 university entry, including 9,357 from WACE students. Last year, 12,878 applications were received, including 8,041 from WACE students.

This year, 12,461 offers were made, with 72% going to first preferences. Overall, 77% of university applicants have received an offer. At the same time last year, 10,315 offers were made, with 75% going to first preferences; 2020 WACE students had received 7,336 offers for 2021 university entry (91% of WACE applicants).

Since the December round, 5,078 people have accepted their offers (5,509 last year).

This year there were 2,609 new offers in the January round. These were made to a mixture of new applicants and existing applicants who missed an offer in the December round or who have now been offered a course higher in their preference list.

Also included in the January round of offers are people who were offered places in the December round but had chosen to wait in the hope of being offered one of their higher preferences in the later round. The universities have reoffered 1,546 places (1,972 last year) to applicants who chose to use this 'safety net' for their December round offer.

There are always a number of people who do not take up their offers or who choose to defer studies until the following year. There are 2,123 applicants who have not accepted their first preference offer from the December round (1,972 last year). A further 528 applicants have chosen to defer their study until 2023 (581 at the same time last year).

See attached for Summary of University Offers through TISC, 2018 to 2022. Full application and offer statistics for all five universities, by course, are available at www.tisc.edu.au.
