

Media Release: 2023 UNIVERSITY OFFERS THROUGH TISC
(Embargoed until Friday 20th January 2023)

Final (January) round university offer information is now available to applicants on the Tertiary Institutions Service Centre's website, www.tisc.edu.au.

TISC received a total of 14,388 applications for 2023 university entry, including 9,786 from WACE students. Last year, 16,081 applications were received, including 9,357 from WACE students.

This year, 11,939 offers were made, with 77% going to first preferences. Overall, 83% of university applicants have received an offer. At the same time last year, 12,468 offers were made, with 72% going to first preferences. In 2021, 10,315 offers were made, with 75% going to first preferences.

As of 19 January 2023, 5,828 people have accepted their offers (5,078 last year).

This year there were 1,428 more offers in the January round than the December round. These were made up of a mixture of new applicants and existing applicants who missed an offer in the December round or who have now been offered a course higher in their preference list.

Also included in the January round of offers are people who were offered places in the December round but had chosen to wait in the hope of being offered one of their higher preferences in the later round. The universities have re-offered 1,293 places (1,546 last year) to applicants who chose to use this 'safety net' for their December round offer.

There are always a number of people who do not take up their offers or who choose to defer studies until the following year. There are 2,122 applicants who have not accepted their first preference offer from the December round (2,123 last year). A further 612 applicants have chosen to defer their study until 2024 (560 at the same time last year).

Full application and offer statistics for all five universities, by course, are available at www.tisc.edu.au.

Andrew Crevald
Chief Executive Officer
19 January 2023